From Carrizozo Schools

(Supt. E. E. Cole.)

The teachers who attended the State Teachers' Association at Albuquerque last week report a very profitable session. It seems to be the opinion all over the state that the speakers at this session were the best that the association ever had. One of the speakers, Dr. Searson, is the author of the Searson and Martin Readers used in the Carrizozo schools and very widely over the United States.

There is always a great deal learned at such meetings but the greatest benefit comes from enthusiasm and inspiration aroused.

We are glad to publish the names of all the honor pupils of the Carrizozo schools each month. Many of them try hard to get into that list. The following is the honor roll for November:

In Wretched Armenia

New York, Nov. 29.—French military authorities in Cilicia have informed officials of the Armenian National Union that France is going to occupy the entire region to the full extent of her mandate and that Armenians will be afforded complete protection, according to advices reaching Near East Relief Headquarters here from agents in Aleppo, Syria. Both Urfs and Mardin, now lying well within admittedly Turkish Nationalist territory, are to be occupied these advices state. Urfa was the scene of a massacre by Turkish Nationalists of French forces garrisoning the city last spring. According to the information received by the relief organization, the French have sent word to Kemal Pasha, Nationalist leader, that they have not forgotten this massacre and that if any further outrages are committed against any Christian, Armenian or otherwise, in Urfa, the city will suffer.

Relief officials are inclined to believe that the only solution of the present critical situation in Cilicia is a firmer French policy in holding the occupied areas. According to latest information received at relief headquarters conditions are chaotic throughout Cilicia. Where the Nationalists are not fighting the French at Aintab, Adana, and nearby cities they are persecuting the Armenians. Eighteen Americans are cut off in Adana by the siege that Nationalists have been conducting against the French garrison since June 28. Homeless, hungry, and half-naked refugees are reported to be pouring into relief stations in the most hopeless state of misery.

Shoe Manufacturers

Ark Bonus Abolition

Lynn, Mass., Nov. 29.—The shoe manufacturers of this city today made formal request of the joint council United Shoe Workers of America for abolition of the wage bonus of 12½ to 20 percent that has been paid for more than a year. This is the first general steps towards reduction in wages in this city where normally 15,000 operatives are employed in 100 factories.

Elimination of the bonus is necessary, according to the manufacturers in order to reduce operating costs to the point where shops may be reopened and run with a profit.

Take Advantage

Of the Sales

Our business houses are advertising extensively just now, in order to attract the attention of the public to the many bargains in groceries, hardware, gent's furnishing goods and in fact all the wants of the home are enumerated in the ads you may read in this issue of the Outlook. Carrizozo business houses are in a better position to give bargains to their customers than those of any other place we might mention. The very questions you have been asking, will undoubtedly be answered in some ad of the many which our merchants are now putting before you—Read the ads.

Covert Alien Propaganda

(Republican Publicity Association)

"Undoubtedly, the foreign language press controlled, of course, by men of foreign origin, has been an influence tending to cause immigrants to retain their affection for the mother country and delaying their complete Americanization. This is true even though the editors are themselves thoroughly loyal to the United States, for anything that delays the learning of the English language retards the immigrant in becoming familiar with American institutions and customs. The foreign-language press has rendered good service to many new immigrants and ought not to be subjected to general condemnation. The fact remains nevertheless, that the opportunity to read a paper in the mother tongue discourages learning the language of the nation of adoption.

"At the recent election the voters of America gave their endorsement, by a plurality of more than 6,000,000 to that political party which stands avowedly for 'America First.' That party stands for America first in international relations, in economics, and in every other respect. There will be propaganda in the future as in the past, but the party that comes into power on March 4 is committed to the policy of conducting propaganda for 'America First.' Those who are bent upon conducting propaganda for 'foreign interests first' will do well to get in their work before March 4, for after that time their activities will be restricted."

Elmer Eaker, of Rolland's Drug Store, who was called to Bisbee, Arizona, last week on account of the sudden illness of his grandmother, returned Monday, after assuring himself on the advice of her physician that she was entirely out of danger.

Dr. Cole Honored

The State Teachers' Association at Albuquerque, the leading speaker was Dr. J. W. Searson, professor of English in the Kansas Agricultural College. He is the leading author of the Searson and Martin Readers, so widely used over the United States. He was a pupil of Dr. E. E. Cole, Superintendent of the Carrizozo Schools. State Superintendent J. H. Wagner asked Dr. Cole to introduce Dr. Searson to the convention. In reply to this introduction, Dr. Searson stated that Mr. Cole had persuaded him to stay in high school four years; had been an inspiration to him, trained him in his commencement oration, and started him right in his path of life. Dr. Searson then asked the convention to stand with him in honor of his old teacher who had been so much to him through life.

Trainmen's Dance

Tomorrow night at the Lutz Hall, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, will hold their first dance given in Carrizozo. This event is significant, from the fact that the object is not one from which self gratification or gain for individuals or the organization is intended. The proceeds will go to the relief of the sick and distressed members and is a cause which is commendable, charitable and should be supported by the public in general.

The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen was organized locally, but a short time ago and as this is their first affair of a social nature, it is more than noteworthy that it should be for the unselfish interest of charity, which is one of the principal tenants of the Trainmen's manual. In consideration of this fact, everybody should assist in making Christmas doubly cheerful for the disabled members of the Brotherhood.

Horace E. Riddle

Passes Away

On November 26, last Friday, Horace E. Riddle, who had been a resident of Oscura for 14 years, passed to the world beyond. Mr. Riddle was 61 years of age and in consideration of his age had to all appearances, enjoyed good health during his stay in Oscura, until the night of his death. On that night, he attended a community meeting of the people of Oscura but had returned to his room at the Raffety residence where he had lived since coming here from Iowa, feeling badly. He mentioned the fact to Mr. Raffety, who told him to inform him at any time through the night, should his condition become worse.

Mr. Raffety says, that at one time during the night, he heard Mr. Riddle groan, but owing to the fact that he failed to call him, thought his condition not serious, as he heard no more sounds from his room, but on trying to arouse him in the morning, found that he had died some time during the night. Mr. Riddle had been in the employ of Mr. Raffety for entire time of his residence in Oscura and was a faithful and trusted employee, enjoying the friendship of all who knew him. The remains were shipped to Prairie City, Iowa, where the deceased lived prior to coming to this locality, and interred in the local cemetery at that place.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Wetmore of Roswell, visited the Ira O. Wetmore family the early part of the week, returning Wednesday.
